Workshop title:
Work with TRIK-Sinnefinder® - Finding and Answering
Questions with all Senses

Duration: 2x 1h 30 min with a break

Goal of the workshop:
Verbalizing personal identities and developing diversity in a group/team as a resource.

Concept:
Participants of the workshop will use the TRIK-Sinnefinder®, which are individual wooden objects produced by woodturning in big variety in color, form, type of wood, surface, etc. (See: <https://trik-training.de/trik-sinnefinder> ), developed to be used in supervision, coaching and team building.
Participants can select their own TRIK-Sinnefinder®, also take it with them, as a personal loaded object symbolizing the individual profile. A guided reflection on sensitive experience with the object leads to the question: What is my profile as coach/supervisor? In a second step the profile is presented in a group of 6 participants.
In a third step the group of 6 works on the question: How can collaboration in counselling be optimized by diversity in the group? In a fourth step collaboration based on diversity in the group is presented. The mother language of all participants can be used in all steps to describe sensitive perceptions of TRIK- Sinnefinder® and the profile as a supervisor.

Learning outcome:
Getting familiar with

- a less verbal dominated method to work on profile or diversity in teams.
- intercultural and interlingual aspects of working in a group in the summer university.

Finding out about

- the own and the other's profile.
- how collaboration can be influenced positive about diverse resources in a group.
